Themes from Comments

- The quantity of applicants as compared to the past was noted as a concern from many survey respondents
- Some of those who responded indicated concerns about the level of quality of candidates who applied for positions
- Significant concerns were issued regarding a shortage in other staffing areas (e.g. short and long-term short-term substitute teachers, counselors, etc.)
- Concerns were noted regarding teachers leaving districts for other districts with very little notice just prior to the school year
- There is a perceived but unintended environment of competition between districts for attracting and retaining teachers
